Six New Faces Join the Land Office Team

Santa Fe, NM (December 8, 2016) – State Land Commissioner Aubrey Dunn today announced that five new employees have joined the State Land Office team, filling fundamental agency roles. The biographies for each new employee are below.

Calvin Aguilar

Calvin Aguilar has joined the Land Office team as an IT Developer. Calvin graduated from New Mexico State University with a major in Computer Systems. He first joined state government in 2004 with the Department of Game and Fish where he worked on their custom internal applications as well as the Big Game Draw and Online Licensing System. After ten years at Game and Fish he moved to the Department of Transportation where he worked on various applications for two years. Calvin was born and raised in Santa Fe and loves working on his home that he shares with his two Boston Terriers.

Charles (Chuck) Boudreaux

Chuck Boudreaux transferred from HSD as an IT Business Analyst. He has a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science and Mathematics degree from Baylor University and a MBA from St. Edward's University in Austin. He started his career as a software developer and has performed many roles in the IT area, including IT Technical manager, change management, and project management. Chuck is an avid hiker and loves photographing nature's landscapes.

Ursula Garcia

Ursula has joined the State Land Office as the Chief Procurement Officer. She has been with state government for almost twenty-five years, most of it in the procurement field. Ursula worked for the General Services Department, the Office of Cultural Affairs and the Taxation and Revenue Department. She enjoys baking and volunteering with Literacy Volunteers of Santa Fe to provide tutoring to adults in reading and writing.

Elizabeth (Liz) Archuleta

Liz Archuleta has joined the Commercial Resources Division as a Management Analyst. She first joined state government in 2011 as a Financial Analyst with the Department of Finance and Administration and until recently worked for the Department of Higher Education as the Fiscal Officer for a federal grant (GEAR UP New Mexico) for the last three years. Liz was born in San Francisco and grew up in the California bay area. She moved to Santa Fe in 1987. Liz has been married to her husband Matt for twenty-eight years and has a daughter Ashley who is in her last semester at New Mexico State University and will be graduating with her Bachelor's degree in nursing.

Lisa Henne

Lisa has joined the Office of General Counsel as Associate Counsel. She comes to the State Land Office from the Law Office of Steven L. Hernandez, PC in Las Cruces, where her practice focused on water and environmental law, including representation of two irrigation districts. Lisa has a multidisciplinary background with expertise in water and environmental law and policy, watershed planning, and aquatic ecology. She holds a JD from the University of Arizona and a PhD in regional planning from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Prior to becoming an attorney, Lisa was a technical staff member at Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL) and managed technical assistance projects for LANL's New Mexico Small Business Assistance program, including projects related to oil and gas produced water, agriculture, and alternative energy development.

Andrea Antillon

Andrea Antillon has joined the Office of General Counsel as an Associate Counsel. Andrea has over ten years of experience, both in private practice and as in-house counsel. Prior to beginning her career in law, Andrea received an LL.M. in Taxation. She has represented private companies, public companies, and private equity funds on national and international matters. Andrea has advised public mining companies on sales, joint ventures, and project development, and has worked with private oil and gas service companies. She has also advised private equity funds on mining acquisitions and investments, including due diligence. In her free time, Andrea enjoys riding her horses, skiing and fly fishing.

The State Land Office is responsible for administering 9 million acres of surface and 13 million acres of subsurface estate for the beneficiaries of the State Land Trust, which includes schools, universities, hospitals and other important public institutions.
